

A loss function measures the quality of the network's output

The loss score is used as a feedback signal to adjust the weights

